

3rd AXA Corporate Responsibility Week Brings together 160,000 staff to raise fund for Risk Education

AXA's third global Corporate Responsibility (CR) Week (8 – 16 June) will bring together over 160,000 employees in 57 countries in support of Risk Research and Education, competing in a global challenge to raise funds for local AXA Hearts in Action risk education projects. Each local entity will seek to contribute the most kilometres from walking, biking, hiking and volunteering to secure part of a €200,000 prize fund for their local charity project – the final contribution depending on their rank among all AXA entities.

In addition to the Global Challenge taking place on 13th June, AXA Asia will also organise a special 24-hour relay activity to raise money for regional causes. The Regional Office (RO) and Entities will select a 2-hour slot within the 24-hours (midnight on June 12 to midnight on June 13) to have volunteer sports enthusiasts hike, run, stair-climb or cycle to form a day-long relay around Asia. Each km achieved will result in the RO donating HK$4 to a regional Asia Charity, with the goal of covering 10,000km and a total donation of HK$40,000.

In Malaysia, 800 employees from both AXA AFFIN Life and AXA AFFIN General Insurance have pledged to walk a minimum of five (5) kilometres on the Global Challenge Day. Combining the number of kilometers from walking, biking, and hiking with hours of volunteering (1 hour of volunteering = 20 kilometers), both entities are targeting to contribute a total of 8,000 kilometers to form part of the global target of 200,000 kilometers.

"Our business is to protect people from the risk and help them be financially prepared for the future. This is our noble purpose. We put corporate responsibility at the heart of what we do. Apart from the Global Challenge, AXA AFFIN Life Insurance is also organising activities for all staff and distributors throughout the CR week based on the CR flagship theme of 'Risk Research and Education'. These activities include Cancer Detection & Prevention Talk, Diet & Lifestyle After Cancer Talk, risk prevention initiatives like bone check, sports activities, and voluntary works at National Cancer Society Malaysia and Children's Home of Hope. Fund raised from the CR activities will be donated to National Cancer Society Malaysia", said Loke Kah Meng, CEO of AXA AFFIN Life Insurance Berhad.

AXA Affin General Insurance Berhad on the other hand will focus on an environmental theme for this year's 'Risk Research and Education' by volunteering in tree planting activity at the Forest Research Institute Malaysia (FRIM) with children from 4 charity homes. "Saving the environment is everyone's responsibility and we have done quite a bit on our part to help preserve it. Last year we reduced our paper usage by 39 tons which is equivalent to approximately 1,049 trees. We are also organising environmental photo contest and AXA Earth Minutes to create awareness amongst the staff. These activities will be carried out throughout the CR Week alongside other programs such as free health screening (courtesy of Prince Court Medical Hospital) and our annual blood donation drive which are open to our distributors and members of the public", said Emmanuel Nivet, CEO of AXA Affin General Insurance Berhad. He further added that funds raised from the Global Challenge will be channelled to Living Hope Malaysia.

Shubhro Mitra, Chief Corporate Responsibility Officer for AXA Asia said, "In 2012 our employees across the 8 entities in AXA Asia truly excelled themselves in their efforts during CR Week, and we are sure that they will outdo themselves once again this year. Feedback from last year revealed that 87% felt the week-long activities demonstrated that CR was becoming part of how to do business in the company. We also see it as a great motivation tool, as over 90% of our staff felt an increased sense of pride in being an AXA employee through the week's activities as they were able to support local and regional community projects.

AXA is committed to corporate responsibility toward its staff, customers, the community and the environment. This includes reducing our worldwide carbon footprint and our Corporate Responsibility strategy has enabled us to reduce our global CO2 emissions by 34% and power consumption by 16% since 2008, according to our 2012 environmental tracking survey. This tangible impact is the result of the efforts of all our employees, and we will continue to support this mindset in the year to come."

AXA's Corporate Responsibility week is a global annual event dedicated to all AXA's employees with the goal to inspire commitment and pride by sharing how CR is part of their day to day business, educating them to act as ambassadors on Risk Education, and bringing them together to build momentum and emotion around a common theme. These activities revolve around volunteering, education and supporting the environment.

About AXA's Corporate Responsibility strategy

AXA's strategy is to place Corporate Responsibility both at the heart of its business as well as its day to day interactions with its stakeholders. It is through adopting responsible behaviour that the Group is able to most effectively participate in social, environmental and economic progress. The Group's corporate responsibility policy flagship is on risk research and education, and this commitment includes notably the following key initiatives:

- Volunteer work, carried out through the AXA Hearts in Action international solidarity organization for 21 years. In 2012, over 28,500 employees volunteered in charity projects around the world.
- The AXA Research Fund that supports science contributing to understanding and preventing environmental, life, and socio-economic risks.
- A partnership with the humanitarian NGO CARE, to help vulnerable populations better face climate and health risks.
